> Buy and sell interfaces:

The powerful back-end system allows the implementation of a multitude of interfaces for both buying and selling travel products, including B2B and B2C websites, integration with the leading payment gateways, creation of the easily distributable White Labels and the major Tour Operators' web services integration.

B2B

Advanced B2B interface customization.

B2C

Creation of B2C sites offering full or partial online booking system integration.

Payment gateways integration

Validation and automatic or deferred charging of major credit cards.

White label

Allows to publish the system contents directly into customers websites.

Web services integration

Allows to integrate your own product into third party's platforms or import the supplier's products directly into your online selling system.

Integration with accounting management systems

Allows to integrate accounting software so as to avoid the lengthy and costly manual entry of reservations accounting details.

Extranet access for travel product suppliers

Allows hoteliers to amend availability and rates information stored in the system.

Channel managers support

Hoteliers are allowed to connect to your booking system by mean of their channel managers, so they can easily update room availability when needed.

> Marketing and decision support:

Provides the necessary tools to promote Tour Operators business and to support them when planning marketing strategies.

Customization

Allows deep customization of the user interface and functionalities.

Automatic delivery of emails and newsletters

Possibility to send newsletters, announcements, information materials and travel documentation directly from the retail site.

Reports and statistics

Allows to track users behaviours, market trends and the distribution of purchases through a powerful data warehouse built into the system.
